LOU.

Lou I hear you came in this morning, as you call round this evening drop in to the Criterion and bring some of that celebrated Philadelphia Lager with you.

If you fail I shall hit you right hard with one of papa's business cards.

MALICIOUS INJURY.

As a Chinaman was trotting along King street, near the Soap Works, this morning, carrying two baskets, in Chinese style, the wind blew off his hat. He dropped his baskets and went for his hat. A native hack-driver passing at the time, drove deliberately out of his way and over the baskets, smashing them, and then drove off as rapidly as possible. Such malicious injury merits severe punishment.

A PLEASANT EPISODE.

A pleasant episode occurred the morning after the picnic given to the children of Kakaako, on the 11th of June.

When Dr. Kimball, one of the principal movers in the picnic, entered the girls' school room, on the morning referred to, the girls formed a line, and after singing a song to a harp accompaniment, one of the little ones stepped forward and addressed the doctor. Words of thanks were uttered and the blessing of the Almighty invoked. The doctor was received in the same way in the boys' department.

In the list of persons, published in this paper, who donated things for the picnic, the name of Mrs. Singer, who gave two large cakes, was accidentally omitted.

THE LIGHT OF ASIA.

The lecture on the "Light of Asia," by Mrs. Florence Williams, at Harmony Hall, last evening, was decidedly enjoyable. The hall was comfortably filled with an intellectual and attentive audience. The lecturer was introduced by Hon. Justice Dole, who, in a few select words, referred to the lady's visit here a year ago, of her careful study of literary works, and of the inestimable benefit derived from her lectures.

The lecturer, in a distinct, well-modulated voice, unveiled the hidden beauties of her subject, portraying the character of the Hindoo Prince in its true light, and depicting so interestingly the remarkable-ness of the book, that the hour's discourse seemed to be but a few minutes.

Mrs. Williams will give a course of six lectures in Harmony hall, beginning next Tuesday evening.

THE GRECIAN MAGICIAN.

Professor Canaris will exhibit his art in the Opera House this evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. Here is an extract from the Los Angeles Herald:—Professor Canaris was in Chinatown yesterday morning, "taking in the sights" with several others. Passing near one of the numerous chicken stalls that abound in that locality, the professor's attention was attracted to a box of eggs, placed in front of the stall, and, after inquiring the price of a dozen of them, requested the Chinaman to put them up in a paper bag, which he did. Canaris took an egg from the bag, and on breaking it showed the astonished Celestial that it contained a five dollar gold piece.

This operation was repeated until the dozen eggs had been disposed of, when he asked to have another dozen done up, but the now bewildered heathen refused to dispose of any more, even at an advanced price. After the professor had taken his departure it was learned that the Mongolian removed the eggs to the interior of the chicken stall and commenced breaking them on his own account, but with what result may be imagined.

A MEETING OF AMERICAN CITIZENS.

Last night, in response to a call from His Excellency Geo. W. Merrill, the American Minister Resident, a large number of American residents assembled at the Hawaiian Hotel, to make arrangements for the observance of the anniversary of American Independence, July 4th.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by Mr. Merrill, who stated the object of the meeting, and said that the first thing to be done was to elect a president.

Dr. J. S. McGrew was nominated and unanimously elected. Upon taking the chair Dr. McGrew said that the next thing in order was the election of a secretary.

Mr. J. F. Noble was nominated and elected to that position. Mr. Merrill stated that it was customary to ask if the day was to be celebrated, and if so in what way.

The chairman stated that he had been here twenty-two years, and the day had always been celebrated. It was not a question of shall we celebrate, but how shall it be done.

Mr. R. W. Lane moved that the day should be celebrated, which was carried.

Mr. Rowell moved that a committee of thirteen be appointed to make all necessary arrangements and that the president and secretary be members of this committee, ex officio. This motion was subsequently amended by Mr. J. G. Spencer, making the number 21.

The amendment was carried, and the following gentlemen were elected by acclamation:

W. C. Wilder, C. N. Spencer, W. E. Rowell, E. W. Lane, J. G. Spencer, P. C. Jones, R. W. McChesney, C. H. Eldredge, W. L. Hopper, E. D. Tenney, M. Louis-son, J. H. Paty, M. N. Sanders, J. J. Egan, W. C. King, W. F. Allen, C. M. Cooke, Rev. W. B. Oleson, F. P. Hastings, Geo. W. Smith, and W. A. Whiting.

Hon. W. C. Parke moved that the meeting adjourn subject to the call of the president. The motion was carried, and the meeting adjourned.

A CORRECTION.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—I have waited patiently for the conclusion of the Anti-Prohibition article which began in your paper of June 8th. The writer did not see fit to give your readers any direct clue to his own nationality, so it is charitable to presume that he is not an American, and has been imposed upon. For instance he says, "Iowa had in 1883, 1,858 retail liquor stores and 492 beer houses, within her sacred prohibition borders." In fact Iowa had something more than four thousand grog shops in 1883, but her prohibitory law was not enacted until 1884, and went into force in July of that year.

Again he seems to forget geography and history in his calculations. Would he argue that the freedom with which Hawaiians can buy liquors is the cause of the utter absence of pauperism among them? No, climate, all will acknowledge, has all to do with it. Then how can he compare one of the most northerly states with a southern state. Who does not see the fallacy?

"New Hampshire enacted prohibition in 1855." In New Hampshire it cost in 1870, 73 cents, to support the paupers, and before the Prohibition laws were enacted it cost 49 cents. Does he forget that there was a terrible civil war in America between those dates and that it had stupendous social and financial effects? Again he compares figures in Maine in 1850 with figures in 1870! If he will give figures without waiting for other causes to produce great effects.

These are but a few samples of the impositions which have been palmed off upon your correspondent.

A PROHIBITIONIST.

A TEACHER'S TESTIMONY.
EDITOR BULLETIN:—Your suggestion about changing the time of the Government schools vacation, if adopted, would be an accommodation to a good many teachers, who would like to be present at the Teachers' Convention in San Francisco next month. I, for one, wish to go, but cannot if the regular vacation time is adhered to. Several of my friends say the same. I have been told that I will have time enough to go to San Francisco and return during the vacation, without change of time. Yes, but I and my friends have no inclination to go merely for the sake of going. The Convention is the attraction, and that begins on the 17th July. Our vacation does not commence until after that date. It would be an easy thing to begin and close the vacation a month earlier than usual. That would involve no loss of time to the schools, and would accommodate all teachers who wish to benefit by the San Francisco Convention.

Legislative Assembly.

MORNING SESSION.

16th Day—June 16th.

The House opened at 10 a. m., President S. G. Wilder in the chair.

PETITIONS.

Noble Waterhouse presented a petition from Honolulu, praying that electric lights be erected at Kakaako and that some dirt be dumped at the foot of South street to absorb the mud. Referred to Minister of Interior.

Rep. Kamaoia presented a petition from Kona, praying that leper hospitals be established in each election district, and that all sea fisheries be made free. Referred to Miscellaneous Committee.

RESOLUTIONS AND BILLS.

Rep. Rice read a first time an Act to amend law relating to the carrying of passengers on the inter-island vessels, exempting steam vessels from carrying passengers suffering from leprosy or other contagious diseases. Referred to Printing Committee.

Rep. Kalaukoa presented a resolution to the effect that the clerk be instructed to pay for the newspapers now being supplied to the assembly, and that they be paid for at the same rate as paid by other subscribers. Withdrawn.

Minister Thurston said he had heard that the committee to visit Molokai and report on the condition of the settlement, intended going to night. He thought the superintendent of the settlement, Mr. Meyers, should be notified of the fact that a committee was to visit the settlement, and be ready to answer any questions, or rebut any accusations that might be made.

The President said it was with the House whether or not the visit of this committee should be postponed.

Minister Thurston moved that the committee's visit be postponed until Mr. Meyers can be notified and be present.

Minister Thurston's motion was carried.

Rep. F. Brown reported five bill printed and ready for distribution.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

Second reading of a bill relating to agents to take acknowledgment to instruments.

Minister Thurston moved an amendment, providing for an annual accounting to the Minister of the Interior of all business done by such agents.

Nobles Smith and Widemann and Rep. C. Brown spoke against the amendments, and Ministers Thurston and Austin in favor of the amendment. Carried.

The Minister of the Interior moved that the bill be referred to the Judiciary Committee, in order to make certain changes in the bill, where it now seems to clash with existing laws.

Rep. C. Brown moved to refer it to the Sanitary Committee.

Motion to refer to the Judiciary Committee carried.

Third reading of the Military bill. Noble Young asked to withdraw the report of the Military Committee made yesterday, as since then they had found some other defects in the bill.

Rep. C. Brown called the attention of the Committee to the unconstitutionality of section 6 of the Act, where it gives the Minister of Foreign Affairs authority to organize military bodies. The Constitution provides that the Legislature only has such power, and it cannot be delegated to any other body.

The Committee's report was withdrawn, and the bill came before the House for second reading. It was referred back to the Military Committee.

Second reading of bill relating to street railways. Referred to the select committee having the steam railway bill under consideration.

Second reading of bill amending section 1 of chapter 79 of the Penal Code. Referred to Education Committee.

Second reading of bill to confer jurisdiction upon Circuit Judges, to issue warrants and examine for contempt persons accused of crime or misdemeanor. Laid on the table to be considered with the report of the Judiciary Commission.

Second reading of bill relating to Commissioners of private ways and water rights. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Second reading of bill to provide for the importation and sale of alcohol for medical, mechanical, and scientific purposes. Referred to Committee on Commerce.

Minister Ashford moved that the bill relating to the security of costs be taken from the table and made the order of the day. Carried.

The bill was read by title and referred to a select committee.

The chair appointed Castle, Hitchcock, Brown, Kinney and Smith.

Minister Ashford moved that the bill relating to the service of civil process be taken up. Carried. The bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The House then adjourned until 10 a. m., Monday morning.

Do not fail to call at the ARCADE and examine the Splendid Stock of Embroidered Suits at reduced prices.

SOME FIGURES ABOUT STEADY DRINKING.

"How many drinks of whisky do you average a day?" said one gentleman to another, as they were enjoying a social glass at a resort on Cotton avenue yesterday afternoon. "Oh, taking the year round, I presume that my average would be about ten a day."

"And how long has this been going on?"

"Straight along for twenty years, I guess; but it never hurt me any, and I can attend to my business just as well as I ever could."

"But how much whisky, taking your own statement for it, do you suppose you have drunk during that time?"

"I'm sure I don't know, I never thought about that."

"Well, let us take another nip, and then figure on it," and they did, and here is the result of their work: "Ten drinks a day would be seventy drinks a week, or 2,640 drinks in a year. In twenty years that would give the enormous number of 52,800 drinks, costing at 5 cents each, just $2,640. Now, the average drink taken in this country is said to be 60 to a gallon. Then divide this 52,800 by 60, and you will find that you have consumed 1,213 and a fraction gallons. Now, there are supposed to be, on the average 36 gallons to a barrel. Divide 1,213 by 36, and you find that you have drunk just about 33 barrels of the stuff."

The old toper looked at the figures and then at his friend, and then remarked: "Well, let's take one more, and then I think I'll give my stomach a rest for a day or two." [American Recorder.
